Bamboo at HSUHK: A Symbol of Sustainability and Virtue 香港恒生大學的竹子：可持續發展與高尚品德的象徵

The Hang Seng University of Hong Kong (HSUHK) is often referred to as “Junzi University” due to its extensive use of bamboo across the campus. Bamboo symbolises integrity, humility, and resilience, all qualities that HSUHK aims to cultivate in its students. As a rapidly renewable resource, bamboo also reflects the University’s commitment to sustainability and to creating a green, eco-friendly campus environment. This focus on bamboo highlights HSUHK’s dedication to blending environmental responsibility with educational values.
